

PRESS RELEASE

NexGen Networks to Provide Connectivity for Fixnetix Global Clients

NEW YORK, 2nd December 2014 - NexGen Networks, the premier provider of fiber optic-based network solutions to the world's top financial services firms and global enterprises, today announced that Fixnetix, a global provider of managed services for low latency, market data, hosting and connectivity solutions, has signed a partnership agreement that will allow NexGen Networks to co-locate at Fixnetix infrastructure zones within the 40+ data centres where they currently operate. As part of the agreement, Fixnetix has selected NexGen Networks as a premier provider of connectivity into their financial client's data centers, exchanges, and trading floors, allowing their customers to leverage NexGen's full suite of versatile, ultra-high-speed services.

"We are pleased that we will be able to partner with Fixnetix forging strategic relationships with our financial market clients by offering expanded services that will meet the new requirements associated with Fixnetix rapidly expanding customer base" said James Erickson, Senior Vice President of Sales. "NexGen Networks will provide Fixnetix and their customers with a full suite of managed network services. With our speed to market and commitment to service, Fixnetix customers will have access to NexGen's global POP presence and superior customer service, along with fast and efficient access for their global managed platforms."

"Our global customers require agile, fast, reliable and robust connectivity; we are delighted to work with NexGen Networks in assisting us to deliver great solutions and service to our customers" said Angelo Preci, MD of Operations for Fixnetix, North America.
